ABOUT THE 2048 PROJECT

The 2048 Project is a roadmap for one of the most important social movements in the 21st century: humanity's agreement, in writing, to live together in peace and prosperity, with a healthy environment, based upon human rights and the rule of law. The 2048 Project provides a process by which individuals, organizations and governments worldwide can focus together and draft an International Bill of Rights that is enforceable in the courts of all countries.

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.
-Eleanor Roosevelt

Our mission is to draft an International Bill of Rights that will be enforceable in the courts of all countries by the year 2048, the 100th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights

DRAFTING

He who does not look at what is distant will find sorrow near at hand.
-Confucius

The core of the 2048 Project is its website: www.2048.berkeley.edu. The 2048 Project is designed to focus and facilitate drafting an International Bill of Rights by providing a process for many people and organizations internationally to work together. This process is called “drafting through dialogue.” 2048 also sponsors regional and international conferences to bring people together to work on an International Bill of Rights.

The 2048 website provides a wealth of videos, as well as regional and international documents for teachers to incorporate into their classes, and for students to review and reference. Teachers can also empower students to think like leaders and actually sign the International Bill of Rights document!

The website also provides a curriculum for “Human Rights Day,” celebrated internationally each year on December 10th in recognition of the signing of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights on December 10th, 1948. The curriculum includes videos, documents, and A lesson plan for teachers to use so that, on the same day, students in many countries learn about rights they all share.
